

Financial Education

- Besides needing to get and keep jobs, most job-skills training program participants need to learn how to handle money
- A Financial Education component is included in all but the most advanced training programs
- It covers topics such as budgeting and spending, banking, responsible use of credit, and saving for retirement (turn page over to see curriculum)
- Program graduates with this knowledge stand a better chance of achieving economic stability and self-sufficiency

Financial Education Curriculum

Budgeting and Spending	1 hour
Checking and Savings Accounts	1 hour
Credit Reports and Credit Repair	1 hour
Responsible Use of Credit	1 hour
Saving for Retirement	1 hour
Home Ownership	1 hour
Identity Theft	1 hour
Public Benefit Programs	1 hour
	8 hours