

LEADERS FOR INDUSTRY – A Burnham Centennial Project

On May 27, 2009, Leaders for Industry held their kick-off forum at the new Guardian Equipment facility on Goose Island. LEED Council wishes to thank our speakers (pictured above) and Water Saver Faucet for hosting the event at their new Guardian Equipment facility on Goose Island. Speakers from left to right are:

Dennis Vicchiarelli (World Business Chicago), Ted Wysocki (LEED Council), Joyce Shanahan (Industrial Council of Nearwest Chicago), Jim Ranoha (Ri-Del), Steve Kersten (Water Saver Faucet), Mary Culler (Ford Motor), Commissioner Chris Raguso (Chicago Dept. of Community Development), Anne Wilson (Bigane Paving), Commissioner Patti Scudiero (Chicago Dept. of Zoning & Land Use Planning), Ted Stalnos (Calumet Area Industrial Commission), Mike Holzer (LEED Council).
Not pictured is 32nd Ward Alderman Scott Waguespack.

In conjunction with other Local Industrial Retention Initiative (LIRI) organizations of the Chicago Department of Community Development (DCD), LEED Council has launched a planning process for the future of Chicago's industrial corridors and planned manufacturing districts (PMDs) in conjunction with The Burnham Plan Centennial.

The planning process has been accepted by Burnham Plan Centennial committee for inclusion in their planning initiatives for the year. For questions, please contact: Mike Holzer, Director, Economic Development, LEED Council 773-929-5552 x225.